Simplicity is the essence of our 900-series. Easy to work with, easy to dress. The 900-series is based on our successful 700-series positions.

However, with the important exception of transformation possibility from headless to selecting heads due to the unique neck-lock system. The neck-lock system provides the option of easily switching from one expression and store style to another.

We have chosen the abstract head with a minimum of facial features to both the female and male figure, and thereby achieving simple and neutral expressions that will fit into most stores.

The 900-series is easy to work with and an obvious choice that fits most ready to wear collections.

A simple solution with our 900 series
